Four generations of the Moulton family, all ophthalmologists, have provided medical care in Fort Smith for more than a hundred years—Drs. Herbert Moulton, Everett Crockett Moulton, Sr., Everett Crockett Moulton, Jr., and Everett Crockett "Kit" Moulton, III.

DR. HERBERT MOULTON

Dr. Herbert Moulton, the first of the four generations was born January 14, 1861 at Waverly, Illinois, and died January 23, 1951 at Fort Smith. His grandparents were the Samuel Moultons and his parents were Samuel Field Moulton, a farmer, and Martha Jane (Wadham) Moulton. The grandfather, Samuel Moulton, after completing his education at Amherst College in Massachusetts, became a missionary teacher among the Choctaw Indians. In the Bible which is now in the possession of Dr. Everett Moulton, Jr., is the following letter written by Dr. Herbert Moulton:

"These five volumes given to Herbert Moulton by his grandfather, Samuel Moulton on or about the year 1873.

"Samuel Moulton was born at Bolton, Connecticut, April 16, 1801, became a member of the American Missions to the Heathen and departed on his mission November 20, 1826. He followed the Choctaw Indians from Georgia into Mississippi and through Tennessee and Arkansas into Indian Territory. He was stationed at Bethel, I.T. (Indian Territory) from January 1, 1834 to April 7, 1837. Ill health caused his release on June 13, 1837. He retired to Waverly, Illinois in 1844 where he made his home with his son, Samuel Field Moulton until his death August 8, 1879. Missionary Ridge near Chattanooga, Tennessee was named in honor of his activities in that region.

Herbert Moulton now, June 1940, gives these same volumes to his grandson, Everett Crockett Moulton, Jr."

Samuel Moulton was a teacher at the Dwight Mission in both Arkansas and Oklahoma.

His son, Samuel Field Moulton, was born in Mississippi, but later moved to Waverly, Illinois, where Herbert Moulton was born January 14, 1861. Dr. Herbert Moulton was educated at Waverly Seminary, Waverly, Illinois, graduated from Illinois College, Jacksonville, Illinois in 1879; five years later, in 1884, graduated from the Chicago Medical College, the Medical Department of the Northwestern University; and did graduate work in London and Vienna. He was one of the first physicians to do eye surgery in the United States.

While attending medical college he was a student in the office of Dr. N. S. Davis who was at that time editor of the Journal of the American Medical Association. By assisting Dr. Davis in editing the Journal, he gained a great deal of knowledge about different fields of medicine, a high regard for scientific research and an appreciation of organized medicine. After graduation from medical school, he practiced general medicine in Stuart, Iowa 1884-89; Kansas City, Missouri 1889; and Fort Smith, Arkansas 1890-1940.

In addition to a very active practice, Dr. Moulton was also a member of numerous medical organizations, wrote scientific papers that were published in a number of medical publications, and contributed to various medical societies which bestowed honors on him. He constantly studied, keeping abreast of modern medical science and took post graduate courses in European and Eastern clinics.

He was a member and twice president (1898-1908) of the Sebastian County Medical Society; member and president (1925) of the Arkansas Medical Society; member of the Arkansas Medical Society Fifty-Year club; Southern Medical Association; American Medical Association; Fellow of American College of Surgeons; Fellow American Academy of Ophthalmology and Otolaryngology; charter member of Southwestern Clinical Society with headquarters in Kansas City, which was the nucleus for the formation of the American Academy of O.O.R.I; Pan American Society of Ophthalmology; International Congress of Ophthalmology.

Dr. Moulton was married September 21, 1887 to Lynn Elmer Crockett of Kittery, Maine and they celebrated their Golden Wedding Anniversary September 27, 1937. They had two children: a son, Dr. Everett Crockett Sr. who associated with him in practice, and a daughter, Elizabeth Martha Moulton (wife of Dr. Sidney J. Wolferman).

Because of Dr. Moulton’s health, they came to Arkansas in 1890, intending to settle in Little Rock, but on the way to Little Rock, the Moultons stopped in Fort Smith to visit her sister and brother-in-law, Carrie and Charles Smart. They liked Fort Smith so much they decided to stay. During the first World War, he served in the Volunteer Medical Service Corps. He died January 23, 1951 in Fort Smith.

Elizabeth Martha Moulton was born November 25, 1897. In a video taped interview on September 20, 1997, shortly before her hundredth birthday, Elizabeth spoke about the whole Moulton family, and about growing up in Fort Smith.

She said “my father encouraged me to be a physician, but I didn’t want to, so I did the next best thing, I married a doctor.”

Elizabeth had the distinction of probably being the only person living in 1997 who attended the Arkansas Medical Society meeting in 1925. She attended the meeting with her mother because she was not married, and at that time, only the spouse of a physician could belong to the auxiliary. She said she especially wanted to attend that meeting because her father, Dr. Herbert Moulton, who was the 1924-1925 president of the Arkansas Medical Society, was going to speak.

When asked by Polly Crews, the interviewer, what she wore to the meeting, she said, “I have no idea.”

In addition to being present at the organizational meeting of the Auxiliary to the Arkansas Medical Society, both Elizabeth and her mother were present for the organization of the Auxiliary to the Sebastian County Medical Society in 1928.

Three Moulton wives, Mrs. E. C. Moulton Sr. (Juliette), Mrs. Sid Wolferman (Elizabeth Moulton), and Mrs. E. C. Moulton Jr. (Betty), have served as president, as well as other officers and committee chairmen of the Sebastian County Medical Auxiliary, which is now called the Sebastian County Medical Alliance.

Mrs. Wolferman served as third vice president and treasurer of the state medical auxiliary. She also was State Commander of the Field Army of the American Society for the Control of Cancer, and under her direction local units of the Field Army were formed in cities, towns and counties.
Elizabeth making house calls with her father, Dr. Herbert Moulton in his buggy.

Elizabeth described growing up in Fort Smith as a lot of fun.

Dr. Moulton’s practice in Fort Smith was rural as well as urban and he made house calls in a horse-drawn buggy. As a child, Elizabeth often went with him and waited in the buggy while he made his calls.

Elizabeth had a horse she rode all over town in the afternoon after school. Most of the streets were dirt streets, very few of them paved. She always loved horses and dogs, and had many photographs made of her with her pets. In 1974 she was a Rodeo Queen.

She had two nicknames – “Mutt” (shortened by friends from “Mutto” that her French teacher called her – and “Dewey” that she acquired while a student at Wellesley college. While attending Wellesley she played on the Field Hockey team. In 1989 she attended the 70th reunion of her graduation from Wellesley and rode in a vintage truck which had a sign on it which read “1919”, the year she graduated.

The whole Moulton family loved the outdoors and did a lot of fishing and skiing. One special place they liked to go to on vacation was Creede, Colorado.

The Moulton family, as well as many of their friends and neighbors, belonged to the Presbyterian Church. At the time of her death, Elizabeth had been a member of the First Presbyterian Church in Fort Smith for 89 years.

While never running for public office, the whole Moulton family has been active in community affairs and politics, including Elizabeth’s mother who always talked about politics and always voted after women were allowed to vote. She cast her first vote at the age of ninety.

In September 1997, for her many years of community service in Fort Smith, Mayor Ray Baker presented Elizabeth with the “Mayor’s Good Neighbor Award.” Still a modest woman, she said, “I really don’t know why I received this award, but to be a good neighbor, you have to have good neighbors, and I have good neighbors.”

Elizabeth had a favorite joke she loved to tell about the man who went to a doctor. After an examination, the doctor said “I’m sorry to have to tell you this, but you have Alzheimer’s disease and you also have cancer.” The man said, “that’s bad, but I’m glad you didn’t say Alzheimer’s disease.”

Elizabeth married Dr. Sidney J. Wolferman on June 6, 1928.

They had two daughters, Elizabeth (m. Selby A. Haupert, June 13, 1953) and Linda (m. John S. Haupert, November 29, 1952.)

Elizabeth is a teacher in the Fort Smith Public School system. Linda, who was also a teacher, is deceased. She died January 9, 2000 in her home in San Luis Obispo, California. Elizabeth and Selby Haupert have two children, Leisa Haupert Jones and John Moulton Haupert. Linda and John Haupert’s children are twin daughters, Sydney Lynn Lok and Selby Lee VanSant.

Elizabeth Moulton Wolferman wanted to live until the year 2000 so she could say she had lived in three centuries, but that was not Sidney J. Wolferman, M.D.

Elizabeth’s husband, Dr. Wolferman, was one of the organizers of the Cooper Clinic, Fort Smith. He was born January 7, 1889, in Streator, Illinois, and died February 18, 1945 in Fort Smith. His parents were David and Carolyn “Carrie” Frank (Heller) Wolferman. He graduated from Northwestern University School of Medicine in 1911, served as assistant resident and resident physician, St. Louis City Hospital, and as assistant to the dispensary physician of St. Louis until he located at Fort Smith for practice October 1, 1913.

During World War I, he served as a first lieutenant in the regular army medical corps, attending the schools of oral and plastic surgery, orthopedic surgery, and the army x-ray school after graduation from the Army Medical School, Washington D.C. When he returned to Fort Smith from military service in 1920, he became one of the original partners in the Cooper Clinic.

In organized medicine he served the Sebastian County Medical Society as president and secretary; the tenth councilor district as councilor for nine years; and the Arkansas Medical Society as president in 1945-46. He also served as councilor from Arkansas to the Southern Medical Association from 1939 to 1944. He was a fellow of the American Medical Association and of the American College of Surgeons. A member of the clinical staffs of St. Edward’s Mercy and Sparks Memorial Hospital, Fort Smith, he served on the executive staffs of both, and had been both chief of staff and president of the clinical society at St. Edward’s Mercy Hospital. Dr. Wolferman wrote and published many scientific papers.

His civic interests were extensive. He was a member and past president of the Fort Smith Rotary Club, a member of both the York and Scottish Rite Masonic bodies, the Grotto, the Shrine, the Elks Club, American Legion, 40 and 8, Military Order of Caraboo (1940 elected Ternero Caraboo), Military Order of World War I, and the First Presbyterian Church of Fort Smith. To his wife goes the credit for interesting him in his first hobby, Trout dry fly fishing.

Dr. Herbert Moulton’s son, Everett Crockett Moulton, was born August 6, 1889 in Stuart, Iowa, and died July 19, 1952. He graduated from Northwestern University with degrees of B.S. and M.D. in 1911 and 1914. His social fraternities were Phi Delta Theta and Phi Rho Sigma, and he was the first undergraduate at Northwestern University to be awarded Sigma Xi. This was for work done on the “Poison Squad” under government grant. He was awarded Alpha Omega Alpha in medical school, graduating eleventh in class standings; and did graduate work at Massachusetts Eye and Ear Infirmary.

Dr. Moulton and Juliette Gates of Wilmette, Illinois, a graduate of Northwestern University with B.A. degree in 1911, were married April 6, 1915. They had two children, both graduates of Northwestern University: Dr. Everett Crockett Moulton, Jr. and Juliette Moulton (Mrs. George Eldridge, Jr.).

Dr. Moulton served in World War I as 1st Lt., Medical Corps, under Dr. Meyer Wiener in the Eye Center at Fort Oglethorpe, Georgia; served as Examiner and Army Consultant at Fort Chaffee, Arkansas, during World War II; and was awarded the Selective Service Medal for voluntary civilian service in World War II. With the exception of military service, he spent his entire time, from completion of graduate work until his death, in the practice of ophthalmology and otolaryngology with his father, and later, with his son, in Fort Smith.

Dr. Moulton was a diplomate, American Board of Ophthalmology; a fellow of American Academy of Ophthalmology; a member of the American Medical Association, Arkansas Medical Society, Sebastian County Medical Society (which he served as president in 1932), Southern Medical Association, Kansas City Association of Ophthalmology, Pan-American Association of Ophthalmology; vice-president Area Council of Boy Scouts; and on the staff of Sparks Memorial Hospital and St. Edward Mercy Hospital. In 1922, Dr. Moulton was certified by the American Board of Ophthalmology, and later made a life member... of the American Academy of Ophthalmology and Otolaryngology. He was a member of the First Presbyterian Church of Fort Smith; the American Legion, and the Noon Civic Club, which he served as president in 1941.

Dr. Everett Crockett Moulton Jr., the son of Dr. Everett Crockett Moulton and Juliette (Gates) Moulton was the third generation in the Moulton family to become a physician. He was born August 28, 1916 in Fort Smith, Arkansas, educated in the Fort Smith public schools, graduating from high school with all A work. Following in the footsteps of his father and grandfather, he graduated from Northwestern University and Northwestern University Medical Schools with degrees of B.S. and M.D. He interned at Evanston Hospital. His school honors include Phi Beta Kappa, awarded in his junior year, and membership to the Alpha Omega Alpha in Medical School, graduating 11th in his class. His social fraternities are Phi Delta Theta and Phi Rho Sigma. From September, 1941, to November, 1945, he served as 1st Lt., and later Captain with the 4th Cavalry Group.

He was assigned to the cavalry (horse) at Fort Meade in the Black Hills of South Dakota September 1, 1941. He had seventeen months service there during the mechanization of the unit which included maneuvers in Louisiana and Tennessee, and also graduation from the Medical Field Service School in Carlisle, Pennsylvania. In January 1943 the 4th Cavalry was sent to the Mojave Desert in southern California for intensive training with armored and mechanized units. A short stay at Camp Maxey, Paris, Texas, was succeeded by a convoy crossing of the Atlantic Ocean and seven months in southern England.

The 4th Cavalry participated in the Normandy invasion with mission accomplished of liaison from Utah Beach with the 82nd and the 101st airborne divisions. There followed eleven months of combat from Normandy to the Harz Mountains in east Germany. By V-E Day this encompassed five major campaign battles including the Battle of the Bulge where the 4th squadron was awarded a coveted Presidential Citation. Dr. Moulton received the Bronze Star Medal for meritorious service and was awarded the Combat Medic Badge.

After some occupational duty in Germany, Dr. Moulton returned to the States in the fall of 1945 and took up his residency in ophthalmology at the Massachusetts Eye and Ear Infirmary in Boston on January 1, 1946. In 1948 he returned to Fort Smith and began practice with his father.

On November 8, 1941, he married Bettye Tripplehorn of Fort Worth, Texas. She is a graduate of Stephens College, Columbia, Missouri, with a B.A. degree and also a graduate of Parsons (New York School of Applied Arts). Their four children are Bettye Lynn Moulton (Mrs. David Gancher) PhD, who is a Clinical Psychologist at Kaiser Permanente, California, and the mother of two children, Sarah and Elizabeth; twin sons, Everett Crockett Moulton, III (called Kit), who is in practice with his father, and David Crockett Moulton who does computer graphics and design for Acme Manufacturing Company in Fort Smith and has one daughter, Margot; and James Robert Moulton, who received his PhD in history in June, 2000. Dr. Moulton's memberships include the American Medical Association; Arkansas Medical Society of which he is past chairman of the Eye Section; Sebastian County Medical Society of which he has been president; Pan-American Association of Ophthalmology; Diplomate American Board of Ophthalmology; Fellow American Academy of Ophthalmology; Fellow American College of Surgeons; and the Kansas City Society Ophthalmology and Otolaryngology. He is on the staff of St. Edward Mercy Medical Center and Sparks Regional Medical Center; and is an elder in the First Presbyterian Church of Fort Smith.

EVERETT CROCKETT MOULTON, III

Dr. Everett Crockett III (called Kit), who is now in practice with his father, was born November 23, 1947, in Boston, Massachusetts, an identical twin, the son of Dr. Everett C. Moulton, Jr. and Bettye (Tripplehorn) Moulton. When he graduated from the University of Arkansas School of Medicine in June 1975, he represented the... fourth generation of Moultons in a direct line to receive his M.D. degree: his great-grandfather, Herbert Moulton, graduated in 1884; his grandfather, Everett C. Moulton, graduated in 1914; and his father, Everett C. Moulton, Jr., graduated in 1941.

Kit received his primary education in the public schools of Fort Smith, Arkansas: Ballman Elementary School, Ramsey Junior High, and Southside Senior High, a member of the first class to graduate from this school. After attending the University of Arkansas one year, where he was a member of Lambda Chi Alpha fraternity, he spent a year abroad at the American School of Switzerland at Lugano, Switzerland. He received his B.A. degree from the University of Kansas in 1971; received M.D. degree from University of Arkansas Medical School June 8, 1975; served a four-year ophthalmology residency in the Kansas University Medical School, Kansas City, Kansas, beginning July 1, 1975, and began practice in Fort Smith with his father in July 1979.

Dr. Kit holds membership in the American Academy of Ophthalmology, Sebastian and Arkansas Medical Societies and the Kansas City Society of OORL. He is on the active staff of Sparks Regional Medical Center and St. Edward Mercy Hospital.

He is the father of three daughters, Alyson, Juliette and Mackenzie.

ask any visiting group to Fort Smith who impressed them the most and you are sure to hear, “Your mayor and his slogan, ‘Life’s worth living in Fort Smith, Arkansas’.” His enthusiasm for the city and its history has been a positive influence ever since he was first elected mayor in 1990. Prior to that time, he had served Fort Smith as a member of the Board of Directors for ten years and as Vice-Mayor. Mr. Baker has also served the youth of our community with his 39 years as a teacher, 37 of which have been as a history teacher at Southside High School. An active member of the First Methodist Church, Ray has also been active in community and civic service, holding offices in the Sebastian Retired Citizens Association, the Western Arkansas Planning and Development District, the Avenue of Flags Committee, Downtown Christian Business Men’s Committee, Mayor’s Prayer Breakfast, Fort Smith Civic Ballet, Fort Smith Red Sox Baseball Team and the AARP.

Ray is a native of Fort Smith and holds both a bachelor’s and a master’s degree from the University of Arkansas and was a recipient of a Fulbright Study Grant to the Middle East. He and his wife Nancy have two children and four grandchildren.

As a teacher, Ray has received numerous awards including the 1984 Arkansas Teacher of the Year, National DAR Outstanding American History Teacher Award, the University of Arkansas’ Outstanding Teacher Award, Arkansas PTA Teacher of the Year Award and the Milken Family Foundation National Educator Award. He has been voted the Outstanding Public Servant Award and the Favorite Male Fort Smithian Award by the Readers Choice Poll of the Times Record several times and has received numerous leadership awards.

Fort Smith is fortunate to have Mr. Baker as its mayor – a public servant who is always ready and willing to lend a hand, to attend any meeting or occasion where he can be of assistance and who helps to make Fort Smith a place where life is worth living.

The State of the City

By Mayor C. Ray Baker, Jr.

As 2000 A.D. began in Fort Smith, Arkansas, progress and activities were to be seen everywhere. Fort Smith is one of the top 300 cities in the United States in which to work and live. It is the manufacturing capital of all of Arkansas and one of the best places for a good quality of life.

A new Civic Center complex is under construction along with the Riverfront Development and new libraries – three branch libraries and one main library. Plans are underway to build a new water impoundment by enlarging Lake Fort Smith and Lake Shepherd Springs into one large lake. A new state park will also be constructed. Major road projects are underway in the city along with improvements to neighborhood streets. A new Senior Citizens Center is being constructed in the southern part of Fort Smith. Public transportation has reappeared to serve a large segment of our city.

Fort Smith enjoys a low crime rate and a good, safe community. The introduction of the Police Bike Patrol into all areas of Fort Smith has made the police more visible and available to the neighborhoods. Our fire rating is one of the best in the nation. Education in Fort Smith is outstanding and contributes greatly to our good quality of life.

The business climate is excellent as Fort Smith continues to enjoy economic prosperity and economic growth for the tenth straight year.

Our citizens work together in a partnership to continue to improve the community. New arrivals in Fort Smith from other countries led to the establishment of the Multi-cultural Center in our city.

Fort Smith is a treasure on the western edge of the frontiers, the second largest city in the state and a tourist paradise. In June, the National Historic Site will be re-opened and a new Judge Parker's courtroom will be introduced to the public.

In all, life continues to be worth living in Fort Smith, Arkansas, gateway to the West and to the Frontier.

Fort Smith Flag Given to City

In 1936 Mrs. Oscar Gwyn presented to the city a Fort Smith flag that had been out of sight of the public for more than 30 years.

The red, yellow, white and blue flag with its Goddess of Mercy and Sword of Justice emblem was accepted by Fort Smith Mayor James Yarbrough and Commissioners John Rogers and Melvyn Bell.

The old flag was worn and frayed in a few places but was still colorful and fairly durable.

Former Mayor Henry Reed, who served as mayor from April 1913 until April 1917, presented the flag to Mrs. Gwyn after dedication ceremonies for the stone portion of the National Historic Site. Mrs. Gwyn was regent of the Martha Baker Thurman Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution at the time. She and several other DAR members had been instrumental in collecting stones from the walls of the old stone fort after they had been torn down and the stones were used for the wall portion that now stands at the corner of South 3rd street and Rogers Avenue.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Gwyn were pioneer citizens of the region. Gwyn's father was born in Alabama in 1829 and came to Arkansas before the Civil War. According to Oscar Gwyn, his father started the first coal mine ever dug at Hartford.

Mrs. Gwyn said her grandfather, back in 1847, rigged out a schooner and sailed to California by way of Cape Horn.

The original flag's whereabouts are unknown, but the design has been reproduced on a nylon flag still used at city functions.

Meek Family
Commemorates Beginning of Third Century as Bottlers in Fort Smith

To commemorate the beginning of their third century in the bottling business in Fort Smith, the Meek family commissioned John Bell Jr. to recreate on canvas the first home of the local Coca-Cola Bottling Co. franchise.

A Fort Smith native, Bell is known for painting his hometown. The result — “Classic Bottling Works” — depicts an early morning scene with a horse-drawn delivery wagon arriving at the plant on the southwest corner of Rogers Avenue and 2nd Street. To the left, workers are readying some early model delivery trucks for their routes.

J. W. and Robert Meek built the original building in 1899 over a cistern on the former property of the second military fort to house their Fort Smith Steam Bottling Works, a soft drink operation they had purchased in 1895.

When the Meek brothers heard about a new soft drink called Coca-Cola, they obtained an agreement allowing them to bottle and distribute the new product within a 50-mile radius of Fort Smith. The first Coca-Cola produced in Fort Smith was bottled in 1903. Recognizing they were on to something good, they purchased the rights to operate as a first line Coca-Cola bottler in 1907.

The rest, as they say, is history. Today, third and fourth-generation Meeks own and operate the oldest Coca-Cola franchise west of the Mississippi River to remain in the same family.

In 1940, the top floor of the building was removed and an addition to the right side constructed for office space and a garage. The outside of the building was finished in white.

The business moved to its current, modern complex on Phoenix Avenue in 1980, and the property became part of the Fort Smith National Historic Site. The building was torn down in 1984.

The Area Church Directory published every Saturday in the Fort Smith Times Record lists one hundred and fifty one churches in Fort Smith under nineteen religious faiths. Founding dates for these churches range from 1842 to the late 1900s.

South Side Baptist Church, 2400 Dodson Avenue, neither the oldest nor the newest church in Fort Smith, was founded in 1948 and is affiliated with the Concord Baptist Association and the Arkansas Baptist State Convention.

On May 18, 1948, one hundred and twenty five persons met for prayer in the Sebastian County Circuit Courtroom. As the result of this prayer meeting, they were led to organize a church and call the Reverend Victor H. Coffman as pastor.

The following Sunday afternoon the group assembled in the Fort Smith Senior High School auditorium at 2301 North B Street and with Lowell Ledford as moderator and Joan Crouch as clerk, the church was organized with 191 persons joining by letter and eleven by profession of faith. Brother Coffman accepted a lifetime call as pastor and at his suggestion the church was named South Side Baptist Church.

Charter membership was extended through July 18, 1948, a Sunday School, Training Union, two women's missionary (WMU) circles and children's activities were organized. Later a Men's Brotherhood was organized and a graded choir program for beginners, primaries and juniors was begun, supplementing the already active youth and adult choirs. Also, a handbell choir has been added to the music program.

At the present time, September 2000, South Side has an extremely active and growing youth program. A group of youths and adults, led by the present pastor, Ken Overturf, went on a mission trip to Mexico in 1999 and again in 2000.

At the founding meeting the church voted to erect a 100x50 ft. brick building at South 24th Street and Dodson Avenue to provide auditorium, offices and classrooms. Until that building was completed in January 1949, services were held regularly in the Peabody Elementary School building at 501 South 10th Street.

That same year a six-room parsonage was built and a 60x25 ft. mess hall from Camp Gruber, Oklahoma was bought in September and moved to the Arkansas Baptist Assembly grounds at Siloam Springs. It was used as a 50-bed dormitory for people from South Side attending the assembly until 1972. At that time it was deeded to the Arkansas Baptist State Convention.

One month after the mess hall was moved to Siloam Springs, a barracks building was moved from Camp Gruber and placed east of the first building at 24th and Dodson. It provided space for a kitchen, dining room and additional Sunday School rooms.

In July 1959, Brother Coffman retired. The church elected him pastor emeritus and deeded the parsonage at 2600 South M Street to him and Mrs. Coffman.

South Side began its radio ministry on August 25, 1948, with a 30 minute broadcast on each Sunday night from 8:00 to 8:30 over Radio Station KWHN. This ministry, which has been discontinued, was continuous for over forty-five years with changes of time, cost, etc. from time to time. When discontinued, the broadcast time was one hour, 11:00 to 12:00 o'clock, during the Sunday morning worship, aired over Radio Station KTCS.

In 1950, the church library came into being in a corner of the church office with Ina Lee Utley, church secretary, acting as librarian. Ten years later a separate room became available. This library now, after a complete reorganization and redecorating has approximately 4,000 books. The expansion of the library is primarily through memorial gifts.

The first Vacation Bible School was held in June 1949. Eighty-eight were enrolled and Jean Marie Christy, who later served as a foreign missionary to Ghana, was principal.

The church entered another building program in February, 1952, for the erection of a 60x90 ft. sanctuary with a seating capacity of almost 850. The first service was held in it on May 24, 1953 on the 5th anniversary of the church.

The eleven art-glass windows in the sanctuary tell the story of the life of Christ from the manger to the ascension. The baptistery painting, done by Mrs. Feldred Loveless of Fort Smith, is a reproduction of a color photograph of the Jordan River at the traditional place where Jesus was baptized.

The two adjoining lots on the east became available in 1958, and the church approved their purchase on May 14. The houses were remodeled to provide facilities for the nursery and young adults until a new one-story structure of approximately 7,500 square feet was built to replace them and the barracks building. The new building is occupied by the nursery, beginner and primary departments, dining facilities and church offices.

On August 12, 1968 the church became debt-free for the first time since its organization.

In 1975 the sanctuary underwent a major renovation, including a new heating and air conditioning system, new furniture for the chancel area, and new sound equipment and lighting control from a console in the balcony. The church was once again in debt, but early in 1989 members of the church, under the leadership of Pastor Horne, conducted a fund-raising campaign under the slogan “Together We Can” and together they did – the church today is again debt-free.

Memorial gifts to the church, too numerous to mention individually, include the art-glass windows and a lighted cross in the sanctuary, a Steinway piano, an organ, a public address system for the fellowship hall, communion ware, books, records, film and equipment for the library, furniture, gifts to the library, building fund, van fund, choir robe fund, etc. A book is kept in the front foyer for listing memorial gifts and a record of library memorials is kept by the library staff.

Early members of this church will remember the large gold colored box that was called the “Ark of the Covenant” which was used on “Pledge Day” each year of Victor Coffman’s tenure as pastor. At the beginning of the service, the “Ark” was carried into the sanctuary by the deacons and placed before the altar. Members filed before the altar and put their pledge cards into the “Ark” through an opening between two cherubim’s on the lid.

In 1958 the influence of South Side Baptist Church widened when the church extended the arm of the church to Chaplain William J. Clardy, authorizing him to represent the church, with full authority to baptize and receive members into South Side.

South Side has always welcomed soldiers from Fort Chaffee, and as groups from foreign countries have come to Fort Smith, South Side has welcomed them. The first of these groups was nurses from the Philippine Islands who came to work at Sparks Hospital. They were not only invited to worship at South Side, but the WMU held an open house honoring them.

In 1975 the church cooperated in providing help to the Vietnamese displaced persons housed at Fort Chaffee. From May 1981 to March 20, 1988 the Vietnamese Christian Fellowship used South Side facilities for their congregation. They were led by Pastor Phuc Nguyen, a member of South Side.

Since its creation, South Side Baptist Church has ordained six young men to the gospel ministry and licensed three others. In addition to the short term youth missionary ministry, six members have gone from South Side Church to serve full time on foreign mission fields, and three other members served as volunteer missionaries on foreign mission fields – Ghana, Finland, Panama, Russia, India and New Guinea.

The author of a history of South Side on its tenth anniversary said “This is a story of a monument to righteousness. Not a cold, dead monument, but a vibrant, vital living one.”

The greatest history of any church is written in the lives it has touched.

Fort Smith Jaycees
Born in the rural area of Northwest Kentucky, close to the Missouri line, in 1892, the life of Dr. Victor Coffman, Sr., was influenced to Christ and the ministry by two Godly women: one his own mother, and the other, Miss Jewell Midyett, who taught him in his four years of high school in Ohio Valley Baptist College in Sturgis, Kentucky.

The influence of these two Godly women continued to live on in the hearts and lives of the 7,500 people who Dr. Coffman won to Christ during his Fifty years of preaching, teaching, and living the word of God.

Thirty-eight young people who surrendered to special service under his ministry served around the world.

After high school, Brother Coffman finished Bethel College, Russellville, Kentucky, and the Southern Baptist Theological Seminary in Louisville. May, 1916 was an eventful year in the young minister’s life. He finished the seminary, married, and took his first pastorale, the Woodbine Church in St. Joseph, Missouri. To quote Dr. Coffman, “In St. Joseph the frigid winters, 26 below zero, and the Yankee spirit froze me out.” He moved down to Adrian, Missouri for two years, then entered the army as a Chaplain.

After his army service, he returned to Adrian, then to Republic and from there to Eureka Springs, Arkansas, where he got two Baptist churches together after a big split, paid off a ten year debt and doubled the membership with 200 additions in three years. In South Side Baptist Church, Pine Bluff, he led it from 80 members to 850 in 5 years. He led Immanuel Church in Fort Smith from 300 members to 2,390 members in 20 years. There were 3,700 additions to the Immanuel Church.

He led the South Side Baptist Church, Fort Smith, from almost nothing to 900 members and a $300,000 church plant in nine years.

In his first revival in Pine Bluff church, there were 96 additions by baptism. The same number were baptized in the first revival held in Immanuel Church, Fort Smith.

Brother Coffman served on nearly every board and committee in state and associational work. He served on five different Southern Baptist Committees and Boards, and served as a member of the Board of Trustees of Southern Seminary in Louisville.

His advice to young preachers: “First, be sure God has called you to preach; Second, preach only the word of God.”

Forced to retire from the ministry in 1959 by illness, Dr. Coffman was elected Pastor Emeritus of South Side Baptist Church.

In 1901 Madame Modjeska, the great tragic actress who was making her farewell tour of the United States was scheduled to appear at the Tilles Theatre on February 20th.

On February 7th, 1901 he wrote the following letter to Mrs. Eugene Henderson, a resident of Fort Smith, asking her judgement as to which play from the repertoire of Madame Modjeska would be the most appropriate. Obviously the same letter, while appearing to be a personal request, probably was sent to a number of people.

Dear Madame—
As already noted in the public press Madame Modjeska, the great tragic actress who is now making her farewell tour of the United States, will appear at the Tilles Theatre on February 20th. There is hardly need to dwell upon the importance of the event either from a general dramatic standpoint or from the association it will have in future years with the history of the local stage. It is an event that will interest all elements of the community, not alone the regular playgoers, but likewise the scholars and teachers of our educational institutions.

Wishing to make the occasion as popular as it will surely be artistic, I would greatly appreciate the favor if you would advise me by letter which of the plays listed below, in your judgment, would prove the best selection. By arrangement with the Modjeska management the matter has been left to the public choice and the majority vote will therefore decide it.

Trusting to hear from you, I remain,
Yours respectfully,

Modjeska’s repertoire:
“Mary Stuart”
“Macbeth”
And Shakespeare’s historical tragedy of

Cooley's Drug Store

By Doug Smith, Jr.

Cooley's Drug Store, located in the triangle building at South 21st Street and Rogers Avenue, was a Fort Smith institution and gathering place for generations of Fort Smithians and Camp Chaffee (later Fort Chaffee) soldiers from 1929 until the late 1960's.

It was at one time the largest drugstore in Arkansas, featuring gift, cosmetics, candy, toy and liquor departments, plus a restaurant and soda fountain to complement the drug section.

In the early days, there were carhops to serve such specialties as Mandies (a snow cone made using two Dixie cups), the famous Chickburger (which was never served again after the cook ran off with the secret recipe of ground chicken and spices) and the mammoth double-meat cheeseburgers.

There was a pinball machine, and in the 30's, even a slot machine, and lots of folks sitting on the hoods of their cars.

Sunday lunch was a “must” for churchgoers, and they usually had the blue plate special. You could dial the simple phone number 3400 (this was before SUunset, MIssion, GLaStone and other prefixes), and the delivery boy, wearing a black felt beanie and riding a bicycle, would deliver the smallest of items, even purchases as little as 5 cents.

An additional location known as Cooley's No. 2 was across from Fort Smith High School (now North Side). It was THE hangout for teens in the 1940s. Neighboring businesses were Famous Chili and Smith's Dog House.

In the 60s the drugstore was moved to the first block off North Greenwood, next to the Cooley residence. Both structures were torn down to make room for the construction of Walgreen's drugstore.

Ella Falk: A Giver and A Doer

Ella Falk, descendant of one of Fort Smith's pioneer families, was one of the "givers" in life since she was a child, telling stories on Sunday afternoons at the Rosalie Tilles Home.

Born on March 12, 1902, in Fort Smith, she lived in Fort Smith most of her life. She was the daughter of Lillian and George Tilles and her grandparents settled in Fort Smith in 1866. She was in high school during World War I and participated in charity drives and knitted, sewed and made bandages for the American Red Cross.

Through the years she worked as a volunteer for countless causes, including a Red Cross Gray Lady at Camp Chaffee, working in the Blood Mobile at the army camp and in town, serving as a USO Hostess, in USO Traveler's Aid at the bus station, in an executive capacity on the USO Council, and in an executive capacity as a member of the Jewish Welfare Board. She was the first Fort Smithian to volunteer for Civil Defense, worked on the Ration Board, registered men for the draft, and received a certificate from the United States Government for completing and passing the exam for "Comprehensive Bombing Reconnaissance." She was an Air Raid warden, one of the organizers of Operation Heart Start, helped organize the Fort Smith Little Theatre and the Broadway Theatre, was a member of the Friends of the Library, the Fort Smith Art Center and the Fort Smith Symphony.

She was a past member of the Explorer's Club, Community Concert, Audubon Society, Great Books Discussion Group, Women's Federation, Musical Coterie, United Hebrew Temple Board, Temple Sisterhood Board, and a member of the Sebastian Republican Committee.

She was a member of the Sparks Citizens Advisory Committee since it first organized, assisted hospital nurses for many years, was a Sparks Foundation Charter member 1971-1985, and raised funds for the Sparks Regional Medical Center facilities and an annex of Sparks Manor.

She was a member of the Board of the Fort Smith Day Nursery, the board of the Fort Smith Welfare and Goodfellows Committee, and one of the organizers and board member of the Family Service Agency. She organized Home Maker's Services, organized the Fort Smith branch of the American Association of University Women, served as a board member of the Mental Health Association, and worked with Operation Santa Claus, which provided gifts to patients in Little Rock hospitals.

She was one of the organizers and a member of the Republican Women's Club, worked as a chairperson for United Way agencies and on drives for the American Heart Association and the American Cancer Society, and organized the city for the Red Cross drive with a pattern used for years afterward.

She talked on various subjects for radio, television and to clubs, schools and organizations, including "Social Work" for Junior League Provisionals and "Early Child Care" from the pulpit of Quinn Chapel.

She was a life member of the YWCA, a member of the Sparks Women's Board for 60-plus years, Bonneville House, Fort Smith Historical Society, Old Fort Museum and the Heritage Foundation.

She gave annually to the Cancer Society, the Lung Association, the American Heart Association, the Fort Smith Trolley Association, Easter Seals, Salvation Army, March of Dimes, Arthritis Foundation, the Arkansas Children's Hospital, United Way, Jewish Welfare Fund, St. Jude's, St. Edward Mercy Medical Center's "Commitment to Excellence," and Westark Community College.

Thousands of men, women and children derived pleasure from viewing her doll collection. The dolls have been shared with individuals, Brownie Scouts, Girl Scouts, school classes, Sunday schools, Y-Teens, and adult groups.

Ella Falk, a giver and a doer, died on Wednesday, April 21, 1999. Fruits of her vision and unselfish dedication live on today in the lives of the untold thousands of people touched and helped by her work. She spent her lifetime giving of her time, her energy, her ability, her money and herself to others.

The widow of George Falk who died in 1963, she is survived by numerous nieces and nephews, including Mrs. Roberta Carver Jolly of San Bernadino, California, Mrs. Rosalie Cloud of Tehachapi, California and Paula Boelsems of Santa Monica, California.

Funeral services were held April 26 graveside at the Jewish Cemetery in Fort Smith.

Oak Cemetery: Aunt Sarah Clark's Graveyard

By Charles Raney, Assistant Director of Community Services, City of Fort Smith

In a neglected grave in Oak Cemetery lies the body of Miss Sarah Clark, who initially donated property of this cemetery to the City of Fort Smith. No flowers are ever placed on her grave, for few know what a benefactor she was to Fort Smith. This cemetery was known as Aunt Sarah Clark's graveyard. When she donated the cemetery, she reserved the lot in which her remains now reside.

Miss Sarah Clark, who came to Fort Smith in 1850, died at her residence at the corner of North Sixth and B Streets, August 4, 1887. Miss Clark had resided in the house continuously since 1851 and was widely known to be a kind and charitable woman.

She was born in Cleveland, Ohio and moved to Arkansas back in the 1840s. Her family first settled in Pope County, where her two bachelor brothers Aaron and Abram Clark engaged in the lumber and saw mill business and obtained considerable wealth. In 1850 they moved to Fort Smith, and having wealth, erected several residences. The family at that time consisted of Aaron, Abram, Miss Sarah and their mother.

About the time of their move here, Abram died, leaving all of his property to Aaron, in accordance with a mutual agreement entered into by writing by the two brothers, but left no will to that effect except by said agreement. Aaron died in 1855 and left his property to his mother and sister, Sarah.

It was an agreement between the Clark brothers and Mr. Hershey, who married a relative, that he, Hershey, never should benefit by the estate they built up, and in this matter, Sarah and the mother were intended to be beneficiaries and they personally knew it. Mr. Hershey brought suit for an interest in the property. Miss Sarah put another relative, Mr. Miller, who was with her in her last hours, in possession and made a will in his favor a few days before her death.

After Miss Sarah's death, Mr. Miller made arrangements for the funeral to take place the next afternoon. Mr. Hershey visited the house that day, and Mr. Miller being absent, entered a protest against the funeral taking place before several days, and accordingly went to the Tribune office and stopped the printing of the funeral notices. He also went to the Birnie Undertaking establishment where he countermanded Mr. Miller's instructions. Mr. Birnie however paid no attention to him, and when Mr. Miller was apprised of Mr. Hershey's actions, he, on the advice of attorneys, had a policeman stationed in the residence to prevent Hershey from interfering further.

About three o'clock, Mrs. Hershey came to the funeral with some friends, and was given admission. Everybody else was there as a big sensation was expected. Later, Mr. Hershey appeared and was also permitted to enter the home while the funeral services were in progress.

After Miss Clark's body was taken to the hearse, Mrs. Hershey refused to leave the house and took charge of the house, including possession of the premises. After delaying the funeral 15 to 20 minutes, she was ejected by the police while Mr. Miller locked the house and the funeral proceeded.

The actions of Mr. and Mrs. Hershey on this occasion was severely criticized and, condemned by the entire community as reflecting extremely bad taste.

Miss Clark seems to have been somewhat of an eccentric character. About 1872, she employed Mr. Sam Lawrence to prepare a tombstone for her. The stone was a marble slab, four feet long and two feet wide and also a marble foot stone was made. The tombstone laid in her backyard. The inscription was “In memory of Miss Sarah Clark, Born Jan 25, 1807 (here a blank space was left for her death date). World. Farewell.
I must return to dust till Jesus, in whom I have believed from youth to old age, bids me rise and live with Him in a world without end. Blessed are the dead who die in the Lord.” When Miss Sarah had the tombstone made, her friends tried to persuade her to leave the “Miss” off of the stone, that she might change her name, but she said she came to the world a Miss and was going out missed.

The stone lay in her back yard for many years. A high board fence enclosed part of the yard where the stone lay, but the stone could be seen through the cracks, and was a curiosity to the children attending Belle Grove school.

The large “knot hole gang” that lingered on the corner of North Sixth and B Street, on their way to Belle Grove school in the early 1880s were not baseball fans, but they found the tombstone so interesting that many a pupil lingered too long and was late for school. Miss Sarah Clark’s house stood on this corner and the attraction was a tombstone, the owner of which was still living. Many mysterious stories were invented about this stone. The children rarely ever got to see Miss Clark but for each new pupil, this was an interesting sight to be shown.

After the death of Miss Clark’s brothers, Mrs. Wells, the wife of a steamboat Captain, resided with Miss Clark. Mrs. Wells had a very large cat that was as fierce as a dog, and would bristle up and jump at the children as if protecting the property. Before Mrs. Wells died she asked her friends to chloroform the cat and bury it with her, but they did not comply with her request.

Writer’s Comments
Miss Sarah Clark is buried in Oak Cemetery next to her brother Aaron Clark who died in 1855 and her mother, Nancy Clark, who died in 1861. Miss Clark donated the first acre of what became Oak Grove Cemetery and today is known as Oak Cemetery. She only reserved enough space for herself, her mother and brother, and for six kiosks, three on each side, that mark the way to her final resting place. The Oak Cemetery Commission and the City of Fort Smith have restored the three tombstones and the kiosks in 1999. Restoration and preservation continue to receive high priority for those that have no one to speak for them or to maintain their stones. “LEST WE FORGET”!

- "Genealogy from the Roots Up, Part I & II" by Jan Eddleman
- "Land: Metes & Bounds, Township & Range" by Lynda Suffridge

Saturday’s seminar by Desmond Walls Allen will feature, in the morning session, "A Strategy for that Difficult Ancestor" and "Maximizing Death Records" in the afternoon session. For further information and registration forms you may either write to the Arkansas Genealogical Society, P. O. Box 908, Hot Springs, Arkansas 71902-0908 or visit the AGS web site at <http:www.rootsweb.com/~ags/index.htm>

The Angelina College in Lufkin, Texas offers genealogical conferences at very reasonable prices with cheap housing in the dormitories. Their fall seminar will be October 6 and 7, 2000 and features Melvin C. Johnson, MA, of Layton, Utah speaking on using Mormon genealogical resources. For more information, write to Community Services Division, Angelina College, P.O. Box 1768, Lufkin, Texas 75902-1768 or e-mail vcates@ballistic.com and ask to be put on their mailing list.

NATIONAL HISTORIC SITE'S WEB SITES

The Fort Smith National Historic Site has added a wonderful new data base to its web site—a listing of all the known employees of the Federal Court for the Western District of Arkansas in the Judge Parker era. This includes the marshals. You may reach the site at <http:www.nps.gov/fosm/ctdbast/index.htm>

(Note: Almost all of the national parks and sites now have their own web sites with lots of good information. For example, the Vicksburg site has a list of all the Confederate soldiers captured there.)

NEED OLD ARKANSAS MAPS?

If you are in need of an old Arkansas map, they are on-line. Maps of all the Arkansas counties in 1895 are available at <http://livgenmi.com/arcounty.htm>

In fact, you can get maps from all the 1895 states by changing the "ar" in front of county to the two letter abbreviation of that state (i.e., "tn" for Tennessee).

ARKANSAS GENEALOGICAL SOCIETY COMPUTER SERVICES

Aside from their web site, the Arkansas Genealogical Society also sponsors two other computer services for genealogical researchers. There is a mailing list for queries and Arkansas genealogical tidbits to which you may subscribe by simply e-mailing AGS-L@rootsweb.com and putting the word subscribe in both the subject and the text. There is also a growing amount of Arkansas genealogical data available at the following AGS site <http://www.rootsweb.com/~ags/GenConnect.htm>

To get an overview of the holdings of the Arkansas History Commission and State Archives try their web site at <http://www.state.ar.us/aho>

The National Endowment for the Humanities has an interesting new program entitled “My History is America’s History” which features family histories that have been written for the program and a place to record your own history. The program is on-line at <http://www.myhistory.org/>

IHLE, STROBEL
I am looking for information on Anton Ihle, b. ca. 1860; married Frances Strobel November 10, 1885. They were living in Logan County, Arkansas around that time. They had 9 children: Bernard, A.J., Joseph T, Kathryn, Fronie, Marie, Annie, Leopold and Rose. - Jan Roark, 20 Wildwood, Linn Creek, MO 65052
(E-mail: rocket@advertisnet.com).

Searching for the parents of Leander Burkhart, b. October 20, 1884 in Harlan County, Kentucky. Believe he may have gone to live with relatives in Sebastian or Crawford County prior to 1900. Peggy Phillips (e-mail: peggylvn@juno.com).
(Editor’s Note: If you can help Ms. Phillips, but do not have e-mail capability, send your reply to Jan Eddleman, 1807 Sunshine Mine Road, Hackett, AR 72937-4453 and she will forward it.)

PRICE, WILLIAMSON
I am seeking information on my great-grandparents William Walter Price and Marena Williamson. They were married in Fort Smith, Sebastian County on August 22, 1860. I find them living in Fort Smith on the 1860 census with his father Charles Price. I know absolutely nothing about her parents or siblings and I am anxious to find out anything that might help. – Melba Bishop, 4966 Tyler Street, Oceanside, CA 92057.
(E-mail: melba@nctimes.net).

CARTER, LITTLE, STRONG, SUTHERLAND
Looking for information on John Walter and Rebecca Catherine Sutherland. John came to Sebastian County during the early 1850’s. They had four children: Robert Henry (b. 1856, left Arkansas in 1879-1880 for Texas), Catherine Belle (b. 1858, called Belle, m. Charles Strong, had 2 daughters), Gideon Thurston (b. 1860, m. Sarah Mariah “Sally” Carter, had 10 children) and Mary Magnolia “Maggie” (b. 1863, m. John Morgan Little, had 10 children). John was a stone mason and died in Mena, Arkansas, while rocking a house there. He is buried in an unmarked grave in Mena. Rebecca is buried in Franklin County. – Teresa Sutherland Hammer, 224 N.W. End Street, Springdale, AR 72764
(E-mail: sans_peur13@aol.com)

HESTERY, PUCKETT
My grandfather Elijah Hampton Hesterly and my great grandfather Elijah Lynch Hesterly were doctors in the southwestern and northwestern areas of Arkansas. Elijah Hampton Hesterly died in a drowning incident in the Little River in southwestern Arkansas in 1920. His widow remarried to a man named Puckett. When she died in childbirth in 1922 or 1923, she was buried in Forest Park Cemetery in Fort Smith, but under which name I do not know. I am seeking any information surrounding my grandmother Lula May Hesterly/Puckett including date of death, location of burial, any will or names of other related families. H. L. Hesterly, 12827 Woodbury Glen Drive, Orlando, FL 32828.

HARRISON
Searching for descendents of James M. and Carrie Draper Harrison who lived in Sebastian County and Benton County, Arkansas. They are buried in the Robinson-Yell Cemetery outside Siloam Springs, Arkansas. James died about 1945 and Carrie about 1952. Also searching for James’ brother’s descendents. His name is Thomas Harrison and he was a grocer in Fort Smith for many years. His wife was Maggie. Thomas died about 1935. – Alta Harrison Vernatti, 3117 South Winfield, Joplin, MO 64804
(E-mail: avernatti@aol.com).
NANCE
I am researching the W. H. Nance family who lived in or around Greenwood, arriving there from Benton County, Tennessee sometime between 1870 and 1880. Any information would be appreciated. – Pat Nance, 2712 Denise, Benton, AR 72015.

BLAYLOCK
Looking for information on Charles Blaylock's son, Benjamin Franklin Blaylock, b. 1850. Would like to find out the true parentage of this child listed on the 1850 and 1860 Sebastian County census. Looking for further information on Benjamin Blaylock who stated he joined the Civil War from Arkansas. In 1870, he is said to have been in Fort Smith. – Melisa Johnson, 615 North Charlotte Avenue, Bremerton, WA 98312. (E-mail: Fffeathers@aol.com).

KELLY
Would like information on James and Hannah McIntyre Kelly and her daughters who lived in Fort Smith in the 1870s and 1880s. In 1880 cu Hannah, age 60, born Ireland, widow; Anna, age 18, and Mary, age 14, both born in Indiana. James Kelly died in 1878, location unknown. The family story is that he left his family and went out west during the gold rush and was killed in a knife fight. – Linda Kelly Talley, 317 West Orchard Lane, Greenwood, Indiana 46142. PH: 317-881-1540

PHOTOGRAPHIC PROCESS
Searching for information concerning a photographic process in which my great-grandfather, Judson Hillery, was involved in early 1900's. According to my grandmother's memoirs, he had a studio in Fort Smith, Arkansas at the time. He ordered a chemical from Germany (so it must have been prior to WWI), put a shadow on a piece of glass, then placed another picture under it. He then painted the picture with oil paint onto the glass. He moved from Fort Smith to Texas where he did the same thing. – Wendy McLaughlin, P.O. Box 45, Arthurdale, WV 26520. (E-mail: wendym@access.mountain.net)

GOOD NEWS

The Journal received two awards in the Arkansas Historical Association’s Local History Publication competition: Best Graphics and Best Church History published in 1999.

At the annual meeting of the Fort Smith Historical Society in April, the following persons were elected to serve three-year terms as board-members: Jack Arnold, Gene McVay, Jerry Atkins, Lewis Young. Board members whose terms had expired and they were re-elected for another three-year term are Martha Lou Barry and Bill Pitts.

F. S. Historical Society board member, Julie Galonska, historian and chief of interpretation at the Fort Smith Historic Site, has been transferred to a new job as exhibit specialist at the Cuyahoga Valley National Recreation Area in Brecksville, Ohio.

Fort Smith received $6,200 for a survey of historic churches that are not included in any of the city’s existing historic districts and for technical assistance. Van Buren received $8,700 to continue the Phillips Landing archeological project and for technical assistance.

SOCIAL STUDIES EDUCATORS ACHIEVEMENT AWARDS

Recipients of the Social Studies Educators Achievement Awards are: Tom Pryor for work on preservation of Oak Cemetery; Scott and Velma Graham, restoration of the William Ayers house built in 1888. Special awards were made to Clyde Simmons and Charles Christy. The awards were made in April, 2000, at the joint annual meeting of the Social Studies Educators and the Fort Smith Historical Society.

TIME TO PAY DUES

Except for life members, it is time to pay dues for the year 2000 - 2001. (See dues schedule on Contents page).

HISTORIC PRESERVATION PROGRAM GRANTS

The Arkansas Historic Program has awarded $84,400 in Certified Local Government (CLG) grants to nine Arkansas communities, including Fort Smith and Van Buren.

FORT SMITH TROLLEY MUSEUM

A second operating streetcar is going to be a reality. To date the museum has restored only one car that has operated for the past eight years with over 112,000 riders. The museum has never lost over four hours a day due to mechanical problems of the one trolley.

Hot Springs car #50 built in 1904 is the next project, thanks to financial help from the city of Fort Smith. This is a larger car exactly like the cars that ran to Van Buren. The city plans to delay the planned track expansion for probably two years by using the designated track extension funds to complete the riverfront project. With this delay a second car that will be needed when the track is finished, should be operational.

The museum is also indebted to the 20th Century Electric Railway Foundation for a $2000 matching grant to purchase and pay the transportation of double trucks for the #50 from the Seashore Trolley museum in Branford, Connecticut. This matching grant money had to come from new donations. The total cost of the trucks was $15,000.

Volunteer help of all types is solicited. The car is wooden and will require extensive rehabilitation and rebuilding. Work is done 6 to 10 PM on Tuesday evenings and 8AM to 4PM on Saturday. With the acquisition of the trucks, most of the parts have been obtained.

The shop extension is nearing completion. The metal building is part of the freight dock of the Midland Valley railroad station on 4th street that was demolished. This expansion will allow room and storage needed for the #50 restoration.

NATIONAL HISTORIC SITE REOPENS

The Fort Smith National Historic Site had its grand reopening of the Historic Barracks/Courthouse/Jail Building on Saturday, June 24, 2000. The historic building and park grounds have been undergoing a major $7.5 million rehabilitation project for the past three years.

The opening ceremony was preceded by the dedication of the new overlook and educational panels along the Trail of Tears National Historic Trail. The panels were written and designed with the assistance of the Cherokee, Choctaw, Muskogee (Creek), Chickasaw and Seminole tribes. The exhibits were funded by a grant from the National Park Foundation.

Fort Smith National Historic Site, located in downtown Fort Smith, Arkansas, embraces the remains of two frontier forts and the nineteenth-century Federal Court for the Western District of Arkansas. The site commemorates a significant phase of America’s westward expansion, and stands today as a reminder of 80 turbulent years in the history of Federal Indian policy.

The building has a theatre, information desk, elevator and stairs, restrooms, a multi-purpose classroom/exhibit space, bookstore, and five exhibit areas. The new exhibits focus on Fort Smith’s military history from 1817 - 1871, Judge Isaac C. Parker and the Federal court’s impact on Indian Territory, U. S. Deputy Marshals and outlaws, Federal Indian policy, and Indian Removal including the Trail of Tears.

$1 BILLION GRANT

The United Negro College Fund (UNCF) will administer the $1 Billion grant from the Bill and Melinda Gates Foundation. The historic grant will establish the Gates Millennium Scholars program. The scholarship program will target minorities who have academic promise, unmet financial need and demonstrated leadership. It is anticipated that the program will reach some 30,000 students who annually don’t attend college because of financial limitations. This scholarship program is designed to increase the number of African American, Hispanic, Native American and Asian American students completing their undergraduate and graduate degrees.

MATTIE MARGARET HALL
Mattie Margaret Hall, daughter of W. D. and Esther Hall was born in Sequoyah District IT, Nov.
6th 1887 and departed this life April 9, 1899 aged 11 yrs., 5 mos. and 3 days. In her death her parents, sisters and brothers who loved her affectionately, have lost a lovely child and sister, the community a treasure, and her class in the school a bright and amiable associate. We feel that in this providential dispensation, heaven has but

FIFTY YEARS OLD

Why let your neighbors know it? And why give them a chance to guess you are even five or six years more?
Better give them good reasons for guessing the other way. It is very easy for nothing tells of age so quickly as gray hair.

AYERS HAIR VIGOR
Is Your Remedy
It hides the age under a luxurious growth of hair the color of youth.
It never fails to restore color to gray hair. It will stop the hair from coming out also.
It feeds the hair bulbs. Then hair becomes thick hair and short hair becomes long hair.
It cleanses the scalp; removes all dandruff, and prevents its formation.
We have a book on Hair which we will gladly send you. If you do not obtain the benefits you expected from the use of the VIGOR, write the doctor about it. Probably there is some difficulty with your general system which may easily be removed - address

FOUND DEAD

Thursday evening of last week some Negro girls came across what they supposed to be a drunken man on the river bank at the foot of Garrison avenue, but upon closer examination they discovered that instead of being drunk the man was dead. The body was that of James Hennessy. It was taken to Birnie Bros., and an inquest held. The investigation showed that Hennessy had been drinking considerably during the day, and that his death was due to liquor and the excessive heat. In his pockets were found $14.30 and an order on Harper & Harper for $60.00. The Sheriff was instructed to take charge of the body and give it a burial.

Upon suspicion that Hennessy’s death might have resulted from foul play, James Cresgan and Henry Trent were arrested. They had been with Hennessy a good deal shortly before his death, and it was thought they might know something about his taking off, but the money and the order for $60 found in Hennessy’s pockets removed any suspicions that might have existed.

It is too much to have to scratch for a living and

During the past week Garrison Avenue has presented a scene of activity seldom witnessed. The activity has been brought about by the street fair which will be held next week. The handsome booths which have been erected in front of business houses exceed in number the anticipation of the Street Fair managers. This shows more than ordinary interest in the event. Most of these booths are completed, so far as outside work is concerned and lack only the handsome trimmings with which they will be decorated in the showy display of goods, which will decorate on the inside. Some of them have been described by architects and erected under the supervision of parties who have had experience in such affairs, and all of them cost a good wad of Uncle Sam's dollars.

NOVEMBER 3, 1899

In the Circuit court last week Pink Thompson was convicted of the crime of seduction.

Another daughter has made her appearance at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. John Gardner.

The case of Col. B. T. DuVal against the School Board of this city, which has been pending for some time in the Supreme Court, has been decided in favor of the Board.

The Morris-Morton Drug Company are rapidly pushing the erection of their building on Garrison avenue. The new building will be four stories high, with dimensions of 45 x 145 feet.

The quorum court of Fort Smith district, at a recent session, authorized the erection of a four room building on the county farm, a greatly needed improvement.

Mr. W. J. Murphy has been selected to fill the vacancy in the School Board occasioned by the retirement of Hon. J. B. McDonough. An excellent suggestion.

Frank Carroti, the young jockey who was badly injured during a horse race at Pine Bluff last week, is a resident of this city.

J. W. and Robert Meek are moving into their new building on the corner of Rogers avenue and Second street. The quarters they have vacated will be occupied, we understand, by the Overall factory.

Mrs. Maud Zerr died on the evening of the 24th ult, at the residence of her father, Mr. Daniel Speer, 1119 North Fifth street. The funeral took place Thursday, the 26th, services being conducted by Rev. Mr. Luce.

Mr. W. G. Sadler, formerly of Booneville has purchased a half interest in the hardware store of C. J. Murta, and the stock of the new firm has been transferred from the Main Hotel to the building recently occupied by Hammond’s Racket store. The new firm will be known as Murta and Sadler.
NOVEMBER 17, 1899
Governor Jones appointed Judge Edgar E. Bryant and Mr. George Sengel delegates to the deep water convention, which was held in Memphis this week.

Judge Rogers and Marshall Stahl are at Texarkana holding court. The docket of the court of that division of the district, both civil and criminal, is unusually large, and the session will probably last a couple of weeks.

Jim Robinson, a negro, was put under arrest Saturday night by Policemen Jackson and Jones for robbing a white farmer by the name of Flippin, who lives in Crawford county, of a gold watch and some money. When taken in custody, the watch and money were in his pockets. While officers were taking Robinson to jail he made a break to run and was shot through the body. He now lies at Belle Point Hospital with a pretty bad wound, but will recover.

Postmaster Brizzolara is making arrangements for the changes to be made at the postoffice, but the contemplated improvements will not be effected for some time yet. The office now occupied by Major True, revenue collector, is to be transformed into the money order and stamp departments, and additional windows will be placed in the corridor partition so that each carrier will have a window from which to deliver mail on Sundays. Major True's office will be removed to the second floor, and it is possible that a room may be made near the big windows on the southeastern portion of the building.

Somebody whispered into the ear of Judge Rowe, the other day, that several members of the petit jury had been boozing a little more than was consistent with the position they occupied, and the result was a pretty sharp admonition from the judge that such offenses would not be countenanced by the court, and would be visited by the punishment they deserved.

The Sheriff was directed to keep his eye open in regard to this matter. We do not know whether any of the jurymen have been offended in the matter indicated, but if they have, they deserve the implied rebuke given them by the judge. No boozy man has a right to occupy a place in a jury box.

Wednesday evening a jury was empannalled to try the charges made against Prosecuting Attorney Jo Johnson by the members of the Fort Smith Bar, and the trial is in progress as we go to press.

DECEMBER 8, 1899
The members of the Fortnightly Club held their annual meeting Monday evening and elected the following officers: President, Mrs. Joseph M. Hill, Vice President, Mrs. T.W.M. Boone, Secretary, Mrs. Stone, Librarian, Mrs. Thos. Barnes, Assistant Librarian, Mrs. J. B. McDonough, Treasurer, Mrs. Madie M. Johnson. The report of the president and other officers shows an increased interest in the work of the club, and the report of the president urges the erection of a building for the exclusive use of the organization.

Last Friday morning, Robert Kelley, a man who has been playing the role of labor agitator in this section for a couple of months, was arrested by Jesse Lunsford, deputy marshal, on a writ from federal court in Illinois, charging him with the violation of an injunction. Judge Rogers being at Charleston at the time, Mr. Kelley was compelled to stay in the federal jail until Saturday, when a writ of removal was issued. Kelley was then taken to Springfield, Mo., where he gave bond for his appearance at court and was released. Kelley is the man who gained some notoriety a short time ago by a speech at Jenny Lind in which he referred to Superintendent Haye in a manner which, had that gentleman not been a law abiding man, would have caused a shot gun matinee.

The Huntington Journal says Hartford will be incorporated in a short time.

Do not fail to attend the good roads convention to be held in Fort Smith December 20th.

John Wren of this city, now occupies the position of stenographer and bookkeeper in the office of the Western Coal and Mining Company at Lind.

Dick Thompson, a Negro who has lived in the city for a number of years, was found Sunday lying in the middle of the road near McNally's Hill, about four miles east of the city. He had wandered off and fell in the road from exhaustion. He is supposed to be nearly ninety years old.

Bert J. Reed, a Fort Smith volunteer, was wounded in the leg last week in a fight with Filipino insurgents. Reed was a member of company D, First Arkansas Infantry, during the Spanish war of 1898, but shortly after the disbandment of the regiment, re-enlisted and was assigned to duty in the eighteenth infantry.
The supreme court has affirmed the verdict of the circuit court in the case of the city of Fort Smith vs. T. B. Garrett et.al. This suit was in relation to an ordinance reducing the salaries of certain city officers. Its validity was contested by the mayor and other persons concerned and a decision rendered in their favor by the circuit court. The supreme court upholds this decision.

One day last week, a party consisting of S. J. Rosamond, Frank Coffey, Bob Hunt, and Walt Webber, were arrested by an Indian policeman while prowling around in the Territory and compelled to return to Fort Smith. They violated a law without knowing what they were doing. The Elevator has frequently told our sportsmen that they were liable to get in a mess if they persisted in hunting in the Indian Territory without permission from the authorities. Gentlemen, hunt on your own premises. If there is no game at home consult your neighbor before you encroach upon his preserves.

BUSINESS CHANGES

A number of Fort Smith firms will occupy new quarters this year. The Long Shoe company will move to No. 7 Second street vacated by the Berry-Wright Dry Goods Co. The latter will occupy two buildings vacated by the Berry-Wright Company.

The Webber-Seely Hardware Company will occupy one of the three buildings occupied formerly by the Berry-Wright Company. Fleming Brothers are closing out their stock, Payne and Gant have moved to the building recently occupied by Yaden & Company. The latter having closed out their stock preparatory to moving to the State of Washington. The Standard Dry Goods Company, J. H. Mann, will move to the building vacated by Payne and Gant's drug store and Pat O'Keeffe will hold fort for the next twelve months in John Maledon's old stand.

At the last meeting of the school board, Mr. Frank Youmans was chosen to fill the vacancy occasioned by the resignation of Hon. J. B. McDonough, and among other items of business transacted was the election of Miss Lewis to fill the vacancy in the Howard School occasioned by the retirement of Miss Miller.

Dr. W. T. Cate was elected First Vice President of the Arkansas Dental Association which met in Little Rock last week.

The Natural gas people are working steadily in their project and express a belief that they will be ready to begin operations at an early date. We have no doubt that with proper management gas can be secured not far from the city in a volume that will prove successful.

John Morgan and Shelby Pitts, colored, mixed up in a little skrimmage Sunday afternoon. Pitts threw a knife and Morgan responded with a shot which missed its mark. Both were before Esq. Falconer Monday but were turned loose with an admonition to behave themselves.

DEATH OF REBECCA KING

Mrs. Rebecca King died Wednesday, the 10th from an attack of pneumonia. Her illness was brief. Just one week before, her beloved husband Mr. Nelson King died from the same ailment. Mrs. King, in her distress over her great loss, said at the time that she felt that she would follow her husband in a week and her prophecy came to pass. She was about 30 years of age and leaves four little children to mourn the loss of mother and father. A sad lot is that of the poor little creatures.

JANUARY 19, 1900

A movement is on foot to get up an amateur minstrel show, the proceeds to be devoted to Belle Point Hospital or the Children's Home. The object of the proposed entertainment should insure a big house and the well known abilities of those who are at the head is a guarantee that it will be first class in every respect.

JANUARY 26, 1900

We want to buy gum, elm, and hackberry logs. Will pay $5.50 per 1000 for same F.O.B. Careys any station within fifty miles of Fort Smith.

FORT SMITH CHAIR CO.

We also buy gum, elm, and hackberry lumber. Write for specifications.

Last Saturday morning at an early hour the safe of the Ferguson Lumber Company on Towson was blown open. Fortunately there was nothing in it. The police are of the opinion that two or more parties were engaged in the work, but as yet are in doubt as to who they are.
